

The Church Mouse

Hilton United Methodist Church
September 2014

From the Pastor:

The Mission of Hilton United Methodist Church is “To make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.” It seems simple, but is actually not as simple as it would seem.

I know that I have been on vacation when I look at my feet and see tan lines from my flip flops. It means I have spent a good deal of time outside. When we are at the cottage, this happens rather quickly as I play with the kids in the water, sit and watch them play, read a good book in my Adirondack Chair, and even eat my meals outside. This summer at the end of our week at the cottage I looked at my feet and saw the imprint of vacation in the tan lines that clearly are the marks of my flip flops.

This made me wonder. What are the imprints on us that show the world we are a disciple of Jesus Christ? If our mission is to make disciples; or be conduits for God to make disciples; how do we know someone is a disciple of Jesus Christ?

As I read the scriptures, my opinion is that Jesus makes it abundantly clear that love is the one and only principle on which His kingdom was founded.

My own experience is that being a disciple of Jesus Christ energizes the spirit, challenges the mind, and demands our utmost in our relationship with God and our fellow human beings. I want to share four marks of Christian discipleship.

First, the priority of Jesus. Jesus is often referred to as “the Lord” in the New Testament. The word “Lord,” which initially was general in its application, became a highly significant term for the early Christians. The Roman emperor claimed divinity and wanted to be addressed as “the Lord.” To confess that Christ—rather than the Roman Caesar—was their ultimate Lord was not just expressing an opinion. Those who lived in the Roman realm should have only one lord, and to apply this title to any person other than the emperor could well end in torture and death. Thus, it required faith and dedicated discipleship to call Jesus “Lord.”

But today it also is no small thing to call Jesus our Lord and truly to mean it. If He is our Lord, He is the Sovereign over our whole life, over all that we say and do. “If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me' ” (Luke 9:23). All relationships, activities, hopes, and dreams must come under the lordship of Christ—daily and perpetually. Nothing can come between the disciple and the Master (Matt. 10:37-39). A disciple's ever-binding motto will be, “For to me, to live is Christ, and to die is gain” (Phil. 1:21).

Second, abiding in Jesus. “ ‘If you abide in My word, you are My disciples indeed’ ” (John 8:31). Christian discipleship is a call to continuously live in Jesus and to let His Word be the constant guide to faith and conduct.

Third, loving one another. “ ‘A new commandment I give to you. . . . By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another’ ” (John 13:34, 35).

But Jesus expects His disciples to love as He did, to love sacrificially, love at all costs, love without barriers, love inclusively, love to build the community, love to enlarge God's kingdom, and love to make disciples. As “new” as this may have sounded to the eleven remaining disciples, it was in fact the one command the entire Bible is based upon. The most common thing for which the people of Israel were rebuked time and again by prophet after prophet was unloving actions. Oppressing the poor, unjust treatment of workers, uncaring attitudes toward widows and orphans, even harsh treatment of the stranger or foreigner were the cause of much of the trouble Israel faced in her history.

The one thing Jesus had set His entire life to demonstrating, the one thing He said was the greatest commandment after loving God, was loving each other. Jesus made it abundantly clear that love was the one and only principle on which His kingdom was founded. “This,” He said, “is how they'll know for sure; you'll love!” Do we love one another who are a part of our fellowship, those who are outside our fellowship, and pre-Christians as well?

Fourth, bearing fruit. “ ‘By this My Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit; so you will be My disciples’ ” (John 15:8). Discipleship is a practical witness to what Christ has done for you and me. He has forgiven, redeemed, and empowered us so that we are freed from condemnation to live lives of obedience and ones that are fruit-bearing.

There are two basic kinds of “fruit” of the Christian life, and they come in a definite order. First is the fruit of the Spirit, defined in Galatians 5:22-25. Does your life bear the fruit of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control? If you are like me, some days are better and some fruit is stronger than others. We are to live in constant connection with Jesus through His indwelling Spirit. It's a growing thing. It never stops, and you're never “there.” But you'll recognize His presence.

As we enter the fall season and busy back-to-school season, may you reflect on the marks of discipleship and continue to grow them, even though the marks of our summer fun may fade!

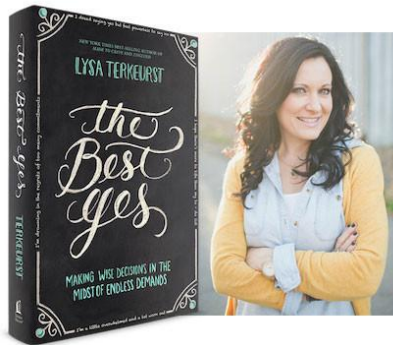

See you in worship,
Pastor Jennifer

Ladies, how many times do you say “Yes” to something and wish you had said “No?”

Do you feel guilty for saying “No?” Do you feel overwhelmed?
This study is for YOU!!

We will meet the first Thursday of the month starting October 2nd!
10 Rolling Meadow Dr. N. Hilton
7 – 8pm

The topic of our discussion will be Lysa Terkeurst’s new book, “The Best Yes.”
Come enjoy a cup of tea or coffee, sit with friends, and take a break from the rise of endless demands and feed your soul.

Publisher’s book synopsis:

Are you living with the stress of an overwhelmed schedule and aching with the sadness of an underwhelmed soul?

*Lysa TerKeurst is learning that there is a big difference between saying yes to everyone and saying yes to God. In The Best Yes she will help you:*

- Cure the disease to please with a biblical understanding of the command to love.*
- Escape the guilt of disappointing others by learning the secret of the small no.*
- Overcome the agony of hard choices by embracing a wisdom based decision-making process.*
- Rise above the rush of endless demands and discover your best yes today*

Lysa TerKeurst is the New York Times bestselling author of Made to Crave and Unglued. She isn’t shy about admitting what a mess she can be. But in the midst of everyday “growth opportunities,” she’s been learning God’s lessons and sharing them on her blog (www.LysaTerKeurst.com) and in her books. Lysa is president of Proverbs 31 Ministries and writes from her sticky farm table in North Carolina where she lives with her husband, Art, five kids, three dogs, and mouse that refuses to leave her kitchen.

Hand to Plow Update:

The Vision Team had a very productive summer. We met several times and had e-mail conversations. We have come to a consensus of a vision statement as dictated by the Consultation held in March. On Thursday August 28th, the Ad. Council will vote upon this vision statement. If it is accepted, it will be presented in worship on September 7th.

Pastor Jennifer will then do a series of sermons in September to outline the vision. She will also be hosting “Pastor Fire Side Chats” after worship to further study the scripture of that day’s sermon, further interpret the vision, and answer any questions.

We hope you will make September worship a priority in order to enhance this important part of our journey. We also are beginning to form the teams of the 4 areas of study for the consultation. These teams will be meeting in early September.

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN (UMW) OF HUMC

Are you ready to think about UMW's fall events for 2014? Ready or not it is time! Our UMW meeting is the first Tuesday of each month at 7PM. Our first meeting for the 2014-15 season is Sept 2nd. Please save the date and plan on coming---ALL ARE INVITED AND WELCOME.

This meeting is a planning meeting and guess what is high on the agenda-----TURKEY DINNER. There is a change in the date and we need to talk about the price of tickets. Just to give you something to think about I looked up the ticket prices for 2012 and 2013 along with the net profit for the dinners.

Ticket Prices	2012	2013
Adults	$12	$13
Seniors and Take out	$10	$11
Youth	$7	$ 8
Children 5 and under free
Net income:	$3064	$2547.30

We all know that prices have gone up considerably and what it costs to eat in restaurants. Keep in mind that this meal is served family style which means seconds are available and that this is UMW's fund raiser for the year's projects and events as well as keeping the kitchen equipped.

Other agenda items are:

We like to have a speaker once or twice a year and October is a good month to invite someone—do you have any ideas or suggestions?—Bring them to the meeting.

We will also be updating our list of college men and women as well as service people. Do you have a name for/on that list or do you know of someone related one of our church families that we should put on our list—especially service people. Bring all information to be passed on to Lori Cole (if you don't get it to her before hand). We will also be discussing a date to be sending out our annual goodie box to them.

See you ALL on Tuesday September 2 at 7 PM in the Multipurpose room.

Vagabonds

Do you remember learning about Roosevelt's CCC camps that were part of the New Deal? Did you know we have one of those camps just west of us--out by Hamlin Beach. If you read the article in the Suburban News or went of a UMW field trip several years ago you do. Improvements have been made since we were there according to the Suburban News article.

Ken Burns of PBS fame did a documentary on them and it aired several years ago. The men that were "stationed" at this camp built Hamlin Beach.

I thought it would be interesting to visit or for some of us revisit the camp. We will go in September. Watch for a date. I am going to see if Ed Evans, the local gentleman who started this project, will join us and be available to answer questions. So watch the bulletin board and Sunday bulletin. I will e-mail the date also.

Help Needed:

Have you been sitting in your pew during Sunday Worship service wishing you could be an usher? We have men, ladies and couples usher teams. We currently have six usher teams, so that means you only have to serve once every six weeks. If you can't serve the week your team is scheduled, no problem, I can always find a substitute. If you are interested in becoming an usher, please contact Scott Campbell at Sunday Worship, by phone (225-2052) or e-mail (skcamp38@aol.com). Thanks.

Summer Coffee Hour:

My thanks to all that helped with coffee hour during the month of July and August, your help and support is greatly appreciated. ~ Janet LaBorie
